Dean Given 1 to 20 Years In Pen For Manslaughter

Judge Frank L. Johnson having denied George Dean, 45, a new trial last Friday, ruled Tuesday on the request for probation by denying same. Dean was ordered committed without appeal bond. Sam Kelly, Dayton attorney for Dean, had urged probation. Defense counsel at this time has not signified intention of carrying the case to the Court of Appeals.

Dean had been found guilty on two counts of first degree manslaughter and was sentenced by the court to one to twenty years in the Ohio penitentiary, the terms to run concurrently. He has been out on $5,000 cash bond.

Dean was indicted for the shooting of H. L. (Jack) Thornton, 36, and Mrs. Gladys M. Reynolds, 18, in his beer parlor on Xenia ave., on March 1st. The indictment was for first degree murder but the jury reduced the charge to first degree manslaughter on each count.

An effort was made last Friday by the defendant through an investigator for Kelly to gather signatures on a petition to be presented to the Court. It was proposed to have the defendant, Dean, support the widow of Thornton and her six children for a period of five years, the maximum length of time for probation. This method is said to have failed as not enough signatures could be secured.

It is reported the widow is now receiving $50 a month support for the six children. The burial expense of Thornton was paid by Cedarville Township Trustees.

Dean will be taken to the pen this week to start on his sentence.

Mrs. Thornton, widow of the slain man, when interviewed Wednesday by the Herald stated that an offer had been made her by a representative of Dean offering her $30 a month for five years for support of her six children. She said she declined the offer. Then last Friday the same representative called and offered her $50 a month for five years but she declined this as not satisfactory. She suggested she would consult her attorney but was informed that such was not necessary as she only had to sign the agreement and get her first monthly allotment. She says she did offer to consider any offer that would give her a home with financial support in addition for the children but the agent said such could not be considered. She said there was nothing that would guarantee monthly payments, especially if Dean left the state. At that the matter was dropped and she was made no other offer.

More Accidents On

Farms During April

Records show that spring months take the greatest toll of lives through accidents, Harry L. Pontious, safety director of the Ohio Farm Bureau, pointed out Monday in a new warning to farmers "to be careful."

The greatest number of fatal accidents occurred in April last year, but the other spring months were high. Nearly half of these accidental deaths took place on the farm and about 25 per cent of these cases were caused by tractor mishaps. Falls from wagons, loads of hay and buildings caused many deaths.

Springfield Voters Kill Six Bond Issues

Springfield electors played havoc Tuesday with six bond issues for various municipal and school purposes. Only two received majority votes and the other four were decisively defeated. A 65 per cent favorable vote was required. The defeat was attributed to an advertisement in the city papers over the signature of three citizens in opposition to the issues. The various civic organizations approved the issues. The city last fall passed several bond issues which of course were additional taxes. The present issues would add more regardless of the necessity. The opposition pointed out the issues last fall with the proposed would add about $500 to each property in the city with a tax valuation of $5,000. This was the straw that broke the camel's back. Some times municipal as well as other authorities ask a bit more than the taxpayer will approve. Measures for health protection and fire protection are necessary improvements and as a rule the public will always approve them but the public nowadays is able to render its own decision when the proper information is available.

TEAM MEMBERS INJURED

The local school baseball team is having its share of bad luck the past week. Marcus Townsley broke the pitcher's thumb and this checks his pitching career after winning the county honors. John Robert Townsley injured his thumb and on Wednesday Billy Purdon fell while chasing a fly and landed on a spike that penetrated his hip. This was a bad week for the county champs.

Sewerage Disposal Plant Now Possible

Village council had numerous subjects for consideration at the monthly meeting, Monday evening. The subject of a sewerage disposal plant as reported by Member Ferguson took up most of the evening session. From the report the sewerage committee and Mr. H. A. Tyson, London, owner of the former paper mill property are in near accord and citizens can expect some activity soon for the disposal plant and extending the sewerage system in the village.

The committee and Mr. Tyson with the aid of Engineer Farrah, Dayton, have worked out a plan that will give the village a plant at less cost than the one formerly bid upon by contractors a year ago. At that time the bids exceeded the estimate. Mr. Tyson has offered to deed the village the land free and the plant under consideration can be brought closer to town on the Tyson property. However the proposed site must be approved by the State Board of Health.

The monthly bills were allowed and ordered paid. Now that the community is to have a local park, council having an indirect interest a committee composed of Members Ferguson and Powers will be in charge. Charles Rhubert was present and asked about Sunday baseball games now that a local team has been organized. There is no ordinance against Sunday games.

A representative of an engineering firm was present seeking a contract to make a survey of the town on the electric light situation. The firm asks $800 to make the survey. No action was taken by council.

A Mr. Barnes from Columbus was present to discuss a sewerage system and disposal plant for the village. In as much as the matter is now under way under another engineer, the Columbus representative was a bit late, however he described his system to the committee after adjournment.

The mayor reported $5 collected as fines for the previous month. Council instructed the sewerage committee to proceed with the necessary legislation and have same drawn by Miller & Finney solicitors.

Council passed an ordinance providing for a deputy policeman, a place now filled by Fred Ewry. Bond of $1,000 is required and the pay $1 an hour for the time needed.

Morris Peterson is now the owner of land where the village dump is located and he complains of the condition of the road where the public has dumped rubbish. Council and the new owner will agree later on control of the dump.

CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

The House reconvened Tuesday last week, following the Easter recess to take up and dispose of the State, Commerce, and Justice Appropriation bill. By the narrow margin of eight votes the Administration was able to force through a special rule waiving points of order so controversial appropriations, such as the one carrying on the "cultural and information" program of the State Department, had not been authorized by Congress could not be struck out by objection. After the special rule was adopted an attempt to strike out the controversial item by amendment was defeated by the same eight vote margin. Another amendment, to save fifteen million dollars by eliminating a special business census, was defeated by three votes, while an amendment to strike out an increase for Henry Wallace's Department of Commerce lost by a tie vote, after Speaker Rayburn had followed the unusual procedure of voting to bring about the tie.

Over on the north side of the Capitol, the Senate, which did not take an Easter recess because of being behind with its legislative work, spent all of last week as well as most of the week before, in debating the British loan. It is questionable what action the Senate may take on this important matter, although most observers believe it will probably approve the loan by a margin of a very few votes. It is probable that the British loan is not voted on in the Senate early this week—the issue will be laid over until after the Senate passes on pending bills to extend the Selective Service Act and the Price Control Act.

Two of the measures on President Truman's legislative program, submitted to Congress last September, were a bill to authorize the President to reorganize the government so as to bring about economy and a reduction in the number of civilian employees, and a bill to provide for full employment.

The Administration and its supporters best the propaganda drums loudly in support of the measures, insisting their passage was necessary in order to meet reconversion problems and to block dire consequences to the nation. In other words, they were "must" bills. The radical groups and other pressure organizations bombarded Congress with all sorts of mail and telegrams in face of this legislation.

The Reorganization Bill was enacted into law more than four months ago, and the Full Employment Bill nearly three months ago. Yet, up to this moment, neither the President or any one in his Administration has taken one single step toward reorganizing the government or establishing the new governmental agency to study employment problems and assist in guaranteeing full employment to the workers of the nation.

Representative Ellis of West Virginia said a mouthful the other day when he made the following statement in referring to current stories of lobbying in Washington: "Speaking of lobbying—one of the things that has impressed me most since I have been in Washington is the use and power of propaganda. It is indeed becoming a science. No doubt you will be surprised to learn that the various agencies of the Government spend a total of $200,000,000 annually on propaganda in making good things look bad and bad things look good as it suits their fancy, all intending to advance a political philosophy and to perpetuate themselves in office."

When the matter was before the House three weeks ago, Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, O. P. A. Director Paul Porter, and all their radical and pressure group supporters insisted that if controls were taken off of meats the country would be ruined and inflation would wreck our entire economy; all despite the fact official testimony indicated 75 to 90 percent black markets. Last week

Fire Threatens Creswell Elevator

The fire department was called out about 6:00 o'clock Monday evening to an alarm at the Creswell elevator alongside the railroad off Main st. The alarm was turned in by Nelson Creswell, who noticed smoke emitting from the building.

The fire was discovered about the drying plant used to take the moisture out of corn. The fire reached the framework of the building on the lower floor but was discovered in time to save the building from loss.

The department poured water on the corn that had become ignited. The accumulated dust only aided in making possible a disastrous fire.

The loss is fully covered by insurance.

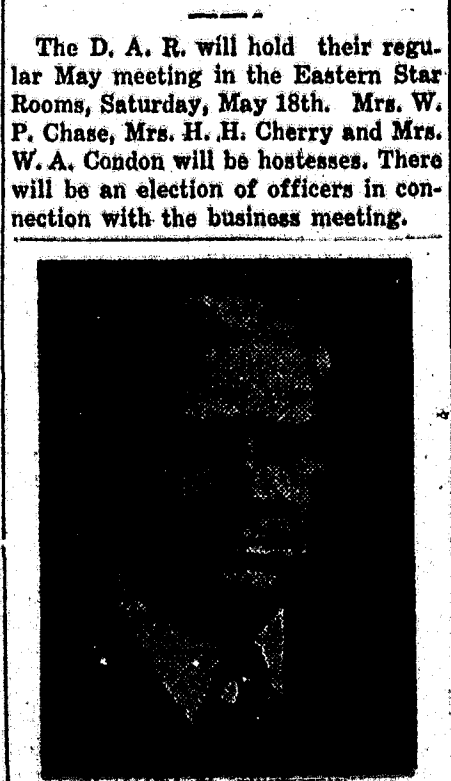

Must Have Wheat For His Ducks

David C. Bradute, one of the trio operating the AAA in the county, had a part with Roy Battle in a farm program over WLV Sunday morning. The use of wheat for livestock and poultry was discussed and the trend was opposite to that of the United Relief Director, LaGuardia, one time Italian Mayor of New York City, who issued a public statement recently that it was criminal for farmers to feed wheat to livestock during the emergency. Of course the mayor never probably even owned a duck, so he knows little or nothing about what it takes to keep livestock on a profitable basis. Mr. Bradute has been engaged in the duck business and stated he had to have wheat or feed with wheat for his ducks and that he traded wheat for it. Duck feed. He gave a reasonable answer that feed with wheat was necessary to keep the ducks from moulting for continued moulting soon would leave the ducks in the position of at least needing diapers. AAs Hen Wallace shipped all the ducks in this country to Africa to keep the natives from becoming "isolationists", the natives never before knew what a diaper was for, soon placed the babies of this country on a ration basis and the mothers have had to tear up old cotton dresses to keep babies from getting sunburned. Rather than have the ducks in need of diapers, they of course should have wheat in their diet whether they get vitamins or not.

Primary Vote Light; Fess Wins By 270 Bricker High Man

The primary election Tuesday was one of the lightest votes for many years, probably due to absence of contests between numerous candidates. Locally the vote was about one third the usual vote while in the county the vote cast by both political parties was about 3,000. For comparison there are 8,500 registered voters alone in Xenia, Osborn, Fairfield and Yellow Springs. Out of the 3000 votes only 800 were cast by Democrats. Locally less than 50 votes were cast by Democrats.

The only contest on the Republican side in the county was for state legislator between Lowell Fess, seeking a second term, and Dr. H. H. Abels, local Methodist minister. The unofficial vote was 1170 for Fess and 900 for Abels.

Hon. John W. Bricker led the ticket in the county and state for United States Senator. Sen. James W. Huffman, was an easy winner for the Democratic nomination for Senator over three other Democratic candidates, Marvin Harrison, Cleveland being third in the list and had the endorsement of the CIO. He made his bid for the labor vote and lost. Even strong Democrat labor precincts failed to support Harrison with a big vote which was disappointing to CIO state leaders.

Thomas Herbert was nominated for governor by the Republicans and Paul Herbert for lieutenant governor, the latter being no relation to the former.

Edward Hummel was renominated for secretary of state. Don Ebright for state treasurer, Hugh Jenkins for attorney general, all serving at present.

Congressman Clarence J. Brown for Congress on the Republican ticket had no opposition. Herbert Mills, Dayton was nominated for Circuit Judge, for the short term and Judge Roscoe Hornbeck, London for the regular term.

Albert Daniels received the nomination without opposition for state senator in the Fifth-Sixth District. R. B. Howard and Margaret Baker for State Central Committeeman and Committeewoman.

Hugh Turnbull for County Commissioner and James J. Curlett were nominated without opposition. The Democrats nominated Ralph D. Nelson to oppose Fess for the legislature and commissioner, Thurman Tidd, The Democrats have no taste for county auditor with Mr. Curlett as a candidate.

The following totals of the four local precincts are: Thomas, Herbert, 160; Paul Herbert, 100; Milligan 61; Hummel, 77.

John W. Bricker, 210; Clarence J. Brown 203; George Bender, for congressman-at-large 139.

Herbert D. Mills, 96; John R. Jones 51; on the circuit judge race.

Fess, 61 and Abels, 141; R. B. Howard 154 and Margaret Baker, 164.

Hugh Turnbull, 198; James J. Curlett, 194.

Central Committee: Township John W. Collins, 70. Cedarville, Karl Bull, 124.

State Patrol Lands Auto Thief Sunday

The state highway patrol made an usual find Sunday in the arrest of a Xenia youth for auto theft. The officer was in Xenia police headquarters, Xenia, when a call came in that an auto belonging to Mrs. Clarence Harner, Xenia had been stolen. It was reported as a 1940 Chevrolet. The officer recalled that he met such a car between Cedarville and Xenia. Taking fast leave out the Columbus pike the officers found the car along the roadside near Cedarville. There they discovered Harry Edward Farr, 17, discharged soldier, Xenia, in the act of transferring another license plate to the rear of the stolen car. An hour after the car was stolen the culprit was in jail.

THE FARMER AND INFLATION BUGABOO

Farmers who are having the inflation cry drummed into their ears by New Dealers, Communists, and heads of the Ohio Farm Bureau tooted his horn at times backing up the OPA. The and make comparison of how ridiculous the above groups, including Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, have been on the price setup of farm crops.

You will recall without effort the old cry of "fair price" for farm crops when the New Dealers selected 1914 prices, a panic period, as fair to the farmer when at the same time Roosevelt, Wallace and others were pointing out to organized labor how the farm parity plan would hold down the cost of living, while at the same time urging higher pay for organized labor and encouraging strikes to get the increase. This was in the early stage of the "sit-down strike" period when John L. Lewis, Roosevelt and Wallace were bedfellows.

Then came the OPA into the picture to fix all farm prices while at the same time permitting higher prices to certain industries. When the farmers asked for higher prices for milk, butter and meats, they were told that to increase prices would lead to certain inflation and President Perry Green of the Ohio Farm Bureau tooted his horn at times backing up the OPA. The situation was so ridiculous that a blindman could see that a dollar more in the pocket of a farmer for his products was no more inflation than the same dollar going into the pocket of organized labor. One was inflation the other was prosperity, according to the New Dealers. It was a pure piece of bunk that has cost the American farmers millions of dollars for their products and the AAA has been the instrument to pass the barnyard dust to blind the farmer from seeing that he has been the sucker while the factors have gone to organized labor. The vote Tuesday as to how the CIO backed candidates have been treated might be taken as a warning as to what is in store for the crowd that would hold down the farmer's income and yet let all other classes go scott free, inflation or not.

Last week Sec. Anderson, who last October addressed the farmers of the nation from WLW at Cincinnati and personally made certain pledges to farm groups present as guests of that station as to what he would and would not do, now is the but of a joke from the farm point of view as having not made good on anything he promised the farmers. In fact he has done some of the same things the past month he openly protested last October.

To compare the increased cost of grain or meat products to the farmer who now refers to Anderson's recent order allowing 30c per bushel additional for corn and wheat for export abroad. Is he now exercising the same method as used by the black-marketeers? If 30c more for wheat and corn was inflation one year ago how can inflation be staved off today by paying such an increase? The reason for the increased price or what might be termed an excuse, has no bearing on the price situation. It is either inflation now or was not one year ago. The average farmer cannot profit by the new price because he has neither corn or wheat to sell but he has been cheated of the higher price by Anderson when a better price was not allowed by the New Dealers when there was corn and wheat to sell. All this time organized labor was being granted higher and higher wages, which was not inflation, and the farmer forced to pay for his necessities on what the New Deal termed a "fair price" 1914 dollar.

Press dispatches this week indicate the wheat price for the 1946 crop may be near the present uninflated price while corn may be priced at ten to fifteen cents higher than the OPA price or around $1.30 a bushel for the 1946 crop.

It is going to take a lot of figure juggling by someone to keep down inflation now in the face of all claims by the New Dealers the past ten years or more.

Several days ago we were handed a letter from a responsible party in Columbus showing the CIO had milked members of the union for a total of nine million dollars to be used to blackmail members of Congress, members of different state legislatures and other public officials that did not accept orders from that group. Both Republican and Democratic office holders were to be slaughtered if they did not take orders from the Moscow crowd that has control of the Democratic party in Washington. The CIO openly endorsed certain candidates in Ohio for the various offices. For instance Marvin Harrison, Cleveland, had the endorsement of the CIO, yet he was third in the race as a candidate on the Democratic ticket Tuesday for the nomination of U. S. Senator. Carl Ehl, Springfield, was an easy victory over Bruce Fessenden, Yellow Springs, for the Democratic nomination for congress. So far as we can learn not a single state endorsed candidate in Ohio that had the CIO endorsement received a nomination. The Republicans have never had any alliance with the CIO Reds and have no apology to offer. While certain high up Democratic leaders are bedfellows of Murray, Hillman, Browder, etc., the result Tuesday would indicate the voters over the state were not taking orders from the un-American CIO dictators.

Several days ago we walked through the Arcade food market in Springfield and there we found the long display meat case covered with paper and a large sign reading: "No meat today, open tomorrow." Walking up Fountain ave., we noticed a sign reading: "Closed today and tomorrow; open Saturday." Then we glance over the daily papers in Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati and read where both meat stores and bakeries are closed for a day or so and with the latter for a week at a time. In one bakery window in Springfield a sign, "No pies or cakes." In another, "No more buttermilk bread under present conditions. Last Saturday while waiting for a newspaper friend at the corner of Jefferson and Fourth, there stood two women and a man looking in a drugstore window. We were attracted by the conversation. One woman said to the other, "You know I have been at five different stores and could not find a loaf of bread for Sunday dinner. I won't even have lunch for Junior, Monday morning for school. The male member of the group piped in, "It's all the fault of the government. Grain for liquor and none for bread. Take a look, ten or a dozen open saloons on this street." Here our interesting episode ends. The brewers advertise no more wheat for beer but nothing is said about other grains. A published report some days ago was that Sec. Clinton Anderson ordered 40,000 tons of black molasses turned over to the distillers over the protest of manufacturers of feed for live stock.

It is interesting to read the advertisements in Chicago papers indicating the hours the leading stores will observe as a result of the coal strike and "black-out" to save electricity. Most all of the large department stores will open at 2 P.M. and close at 6 P.M. Most of the railroads will cut train service, the New York Central system dropping 128 trains daily. Four have been dropped through Springfield. The Dayton Power & Light Co., is said to have a thirty day supply of coal. Many of the small communities owning electric plants operated by steam face a shut down as most of this coal is to go to the railroads to keep mail trains in operation. Washington "fiddles as Rome burns." John L. Lewis is following the New Deal strike law and he has not yet broken one provision leaving Mr. Truman and his CIO followers "out on the end of the limb". The President knows he cannot make the miners work but he has not nerve enough to let Congress to repeal the racketeering Wagner Labor law which the Democrats passed over Republican opposition to please the CIO. With that law out of the way the coal companies would be on a par with the union and their might be a chance of early settlement. Now coal rationing looms. Industry is laying off thousands of men daily due to the lack of orders.

Forty-five members and guests responded to roll call by naming their favorite hymns. Mrs. Cora Trumbo, program chairman, read a paper on "The History of Hymns". This was interspersed with vocal solos and with group singing of well known hymns.

Mrs. Greer McCallister sang "Forgotten", with Mrs. Ward Creswell as accompanist. Hymns sung by the group included "America", "Faith of Our Fathers", "Abide With Me", "This is My Father's World", "Stand Up for Jesus", "Rescue the Perishing", "My Faith Looks Up to Thee", "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today", and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Mrs. Paul Elliott was accompanist.

Finals are in the offing. Next week will be the concluding check up. Then comes vacation until June 10th when the first Summer Session will begin. Practice teaching may be done this term. Pupils who wish to do advanced work and those who wish to make up work will have the opportunity this term. Parents should communicate with the college if they wish their child to profit by this arrangement.

Through the kindness of Mr. Ralph Wead, cashier of the Xenia National Bank, the college beginning economics class had the opportunity to see a bank from behind the counter recently. After showing the young folks about the bank departments, Mr. Wead answered questions asked by the class. In the course of the discussion it developed that one of the students, Doris Townsley Sanders, is the daughter of a former pupil of Mr. Wead, when he was a welder of the birch. He did not state whether he had ever had to field said birch on her Dad. Among other real interesting things were real gold coins, a $1000 dollar bill, the burglar proof safe, the night deposit safe, and the burglar alarm.

The rehabilitation project to restore the College plant and make it ready for the coming year is under way. Workmen were busy during the week mending the roof of the main building, the gym, the library and Harriman Hall. A complete renovation is planned.

President Vayhinger was the guest speaker at the United Presbyterian Congregation of Jamestown last Sabbath.

The class in principles of Education visited the Clifton schools Wednesday afternoon. An extra-curricular activity was observed. The grammar grades were entertaining the same grades from Pitchin in a game of the national pastime, baseball. It was demonstrated before our eyes that a woman can manage a team efficiently, that timber for future high school teams are coming on, and that the eternal conflict between "Town and Gown" is still on.

Manager Bell has just finished with planting one and one-fourth acres of "spuds" at the farm. With anything like a normal yield there should be plenty for the boarding club of each dorm. The plowing for corn is finished. Soon the song of the planter will be heard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens and son are now occupying quarters in the library. Mr. Stevens plans to go forward with his education under the GI bill. At present he is assisting with the work at the farm.

Mrs. Margaret Jamieson Huish gave a very interesting account of her travels in Africa, Palestine and Europe at Chapel Tuesday. In all these places she was a foreigner. So in this life we are all foreigners. If we live right, we will one day get home.

Before an altar decorated with palms Miss Marianna Frederick became the bride of Mr. Emory F. Beirle at the Methodist Church last Tuesday evening. A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Gloria Abels, pianist and Miss Donna Thompson, soloist. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Frederick, and the bride was given in marriage by her paternal grandfather. Maid of honor was Miss Elnora Beirle and attendant's were Mr. Albert Frederick and Mr. Curtis Beirle, brothers of the bride and groom respectively. Little cousins of the bride scattered the flowers. A reception for relatives and friends followed the ceremony. The cake was cut, rice scattered, and heartfelt good wishes extended by all. Six college girls in formal served and Miss Pauline Rafferty caught the bride's bouquet. Watch Dan Cupid!

The young people of the Clifton United Presbyterian Church are planning on gathering canned goods for the hungry in Europe. John Skillings heads the group in gathering the food and when it is gathered it will be sent thru an agency in Dayton, Ohio.

The Young Ladies Missionary society of the Clifton United Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday evening of this week with Mrs. John W. Bickett at the parsonage. Miss Catherine Ferguson was the leader of the devotional service. The business meeting was in charge of the President of the society, Miss Martha Tannehill.

ALONG FARM FRONT

alfalfa is June 7 to 14. The date for clover is the same but timothy can be cut 10 to 14 days later. Seasonal conditions affect hay harvest, and many farmers start their mowers when alfalfa or clover is half or two-thirds in bloom regardless of the date.

WEATHERMAN GIVES FARMERS TH BREAKS

Farmers still seem to have the good will of the weatherman who has given 1946 one of the best starts in plant growth and in providing conditions for field work on record.

One of the good breaks this year is the earliness and the good condition of pastures. Getting livestock out on grass a week or ten days earlier than usual makes an enormous difference in the nation's livestock feed situation because a saving of 10 pounds of grain per farm per day would add up to 30,000 tons of grain per day across the nation.

DON'T RUSH TENDER VEGETABLES

Gardeners whose taste for fresh vegetables has been unduly stimulated by warm weather would do well to observe normal planting dates for tender vegetables such as beans, tomatoes, sweet corn and peppers. Impatience can be kept under control by continuing plantings of lettuce, radishes and peas until early May. May 10, is about the earliest safe date for planting tender vegetables.

CONTROL POULTRY DISEASES

Two serious diseases of chickens, coccidiosis and fowl pox, can be controlled in the period when chicks are four months of age. Sulphaguanidine stops coccidiosis if used promptly and vaccination will prevent fowl pox. Ordinary sanitary measures and proper ventilation in poultry houses reduce disease losses. Bacteria and parasites multiply more rapidly in the presence of moisture, so such simple practices as placing water fountains on a screen foundation protects chicks from contact with disease bacteria and parasites.

FEED SHORTAGE REDUCES POULTRY NUMBERS

Prospects of a short supply of poultry feed, a reduction of 14 percent in chickens and of 5 percent in turkeys to be raised this year, and a large reduction in broilers are predicted by poultry specialists of Ohio State University.

The Feed Industry Council predicts a shortage of 2 percent in feed grains and a 175 percent deficit in high protein feeds. This outlook for feed indicates the advisability of keeping laying flocks well culled so that only profitable layers are being fed and of keeping the number of chicks to be raised within reasonable limits.

MOTHER'S LITTLE HELPER

Yes, little sister swings an inspired broom! She's Mother's Little Helper—and what a help she is!

Mother has a Big Helper, too—a really efficient helper—always at her finger-tips—ready to cook and wash and clean—ready to make life easier for all the family.

This tireless helper, of course, is electric service. It does a lot of jobs at low wages. It never asks for time off.

Maybe Mother and the rest of you take this faithful servant for granted. When you flick a switch you expect the power to be there—instantly—always. And the fact that it didn't just happen. It comes from the friendly efficiency of the folks in this company.

per cent of all meat now being sold Secretary Anderson appeared before a Senate Committee and expressed the opinion all restrictions and controls on meat should be lifted if OPA fails to control the situation within ninety days. Two days later President Truman, in a press conference, backed by Secretary Anderson's position. Last Friday, Representative and former Senator James W. Wadsworth, speaking before the House, said he was glad Mr. Anderson and the President were supporting the position he had taken three weeks ago in attempting to end meat controls, and reported he had just returned from the meat packing centers of the nation, where he had found the situation much worse than anticipated. When Congressman Wadsworth concluded, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas left the Chair to tell a rather surprised House that if he had been voting he would have supported the Wadsworth Amendment to end meat controls, and that he "had told persons in high places so."

He ended by saying that with eighty-two million head of live cattle in the country, there is still little meat on the tables of Americans—in condition, of course, which springs entirely from OPA's mal-administration of the meat price and distribution program.

A report issued by Senator Byrd, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Federal Expenditures, shows the number of civilian employees of the Federal Government, excluding the War and Navy Departments, has actually increased by 86,822 since V.J. Day. At the present time there are more than two million nine hundred thousand such Federal Civilian employees. In other words, practically all agencies of the Federal Government, outside of the War and Navy Departments, have been hiring additional employees under every kind of an excuse or reason. The Federal Government had less than one million employees before the war. President Truman has promised to reduce the total number of civilian government employees to a million and one half by July 1st 1947. It looks as if he had better start soon, if he expects to make good on his promise.

LEARNING TO LIVE TOGETHER

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:15-17; 21, 22; Mark 10:35-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—By this shall all men know that we are his disciples, if we have love one to another.—John 13:34.

One world! Men have discovered in recent years that we do live in one world! And that we must learn how to get along with one another, or we may find that we have destroyed civilization and one another. God has always taught in his Word that all men are of one origin, and that despite their differences, they are to live in unity and peace. That would have been blessedly true if men had obeyed God and his law. Sin brought division and confusion. Now in our day, when we should be far on the way to the attainment of God's purpose, we find men more inclined than ever to be suspicious of one another, grasping in their desires and purposes, and evil in many of their ways.

We have not yet learned to live together as nations. Let us set ourselves to the task of living together. I. A Method for Dealing with Differences (Matt. 18:15-17).

This is the God-prescribed method for dealing with personal problems in the Christian church. That body in which love should reign is often rent by jealousies and personal resentments. If permitted to run on unchecked, they create division and even strife before the world, with all the disgrace it brings on the cause of Christ.

Such matters are to be dealt with promptly. The aggrieved one is not to wait for the sinner to make the approach, but is to go to him and before him the evidence of his guilt. Done in kindness and with tact, this is frequently all that needs to be done. A man may thus win his brother, with no further ado or fuss in the church.

If he proves stubborn, the next step is to bring some brethren along and talk it over again. This evidence of their concern may break the stubbornness, or their prayers may win him. And if it does not work, the things said and done will have been witnessed by brethren who can faithfully report them to the church.

The final step is to bring the erring brother before the church. Now he may see the seriousness of his offense and repent. If not, there is one plain duty; he is to be put outside of the fellowship of the church.

Does that mean that he is abandoned and forgotten? Certainly not. He is to be "as a heathen man and a publican." Does the church have any interest in such individuals? Indeed it does, for the primary business of the church is to win both heathen and publican to fellowship with Christ.

II. A Measure for Determining Forgiveness (Matt. 18:21, 22). Peter's question was a practical one. He supposed the case of one who sinned repeatedly against one who had shown a forgiving spirit. Most of us need not suppose such cases; we have them before us.

We forgive and are ready to let it all be forgotten, when lo, the offender turns up with an even greater wrong, indignity or sin! Then there is weeping and apparent repentance, followed almost at once by another offense.

How long is this business to go on? The Jews said, "Three times, then let judgment fall." Peter, being a follower of Christ, went much farther. He would forgive seven times. Well, that's a lot of forgiveness; let us imagine that we do not stand there with a measuring line or an account book. It must be from the heart, without limit and without restraint.

III. A Means for Attaining Greatness (Matt. 10:35-45). To want to be truly great for God is certainly not a sin. In a world which was rejecting Christ and getting ready to crucify him, this mother wanted her two boys to have a place of honor in the service of Christ. So far, so good; but then came the thing which spoiled it all—selfishness.

To seek honor for oneself, or for those one loves in order that the ego might be inflated and self given a chance to show off, that is definitely unchristian.

If then it is right to seek proper greatness, how may it be done? Verses 43-45 tell us. It is by way of sacrificial service, the denial of self. This world and its kingdoms say that the one who serves is inferior to the one who is served. In the kingdom of Jesus it is the one who serves who is greatest.

Where will such a path lead? For Christ led to the cross, and beyond it the victory of resurrection day. It may mean death for us, for a real willingness to serve connotes a willingness to give all; even life itself, for his glory.
